

OH SKINNAY!

"SKINNAY" HAS BEEN ALMOST DELUGED BY A SHOWER OF BASEBALL EQUIPMENT AND IS ALL SET TO GO

Marbles and baseball are sure signs of spring. Getting the necessary equipment—bats, balls, gloves and masks—is the first worry of the ball players. Every one who has ever played ball, well remembers, how as a kid he contributed his time or two to build the team. The wildest baseball dream of any youngster couldn't produce a bigger or better line of equipment than has been showered on "Skinnay" in the above picture. He's all set to go, ready for the call of—

BATTER-UP!

Yankees Are One Best Bet In American League

MILLER HUGGINS, NEW YORK YANKEES—Granting the season and retirement are altogether a full team is still good enough to win its fourth consecutive pennant. My club is certain to get good pitching daily.

JOHN SPEAKER, CLEVELAND INDIANS—I am not predicting any pennants, but of one thing I am certain I have a stronger team this year than last. Burns will give my club an added punch.

FRANK CHANCE, CHICAGO WHITE SOX—I have my mind set on landing my club in the first division. A club able to stick around the first division always has a chance to finish at the top.

FRANK CHANCE, CHICAGO WHITE SOX—I am positive the White Sox will make a better showing than last season. I can see no reason why my club should fail to finish well up in the first division.

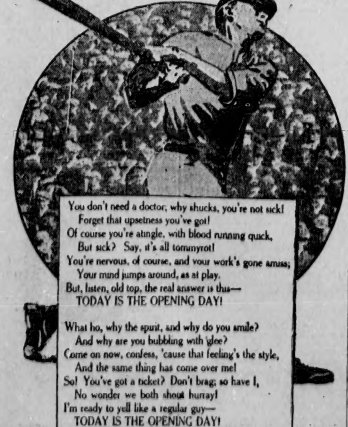

GEORGE SIBLER, ST. LOUIS BRUINS—This managing job is all to me and I prefer to let the players do the work. I hope to be able to play and help the Browns make a good showing.

CONNIE MACK, PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS—I am shooting at second place. New York should again win. If my minor league stars come through for me my ball club will be in the running from start to finish.

LEO FOHL, HORTON BROTHERS—I have only one prediction to make: the Red Sox will not finish in last place. I am inclined to think my club is going to be the dark horse of the American League race this year.

THEY'RE OFF!

BY HAL COCHRAN

You don't need a doctor, why shucks, you're not sick!
Forget that upsetness you've got!
Of course you're stung, with blood running quick,
But icky! Say, it's all tomorrow!

You're nervous, of course, and your work's gone awry;
You must jump around, and play;
But, listen, old, the real answer is this—
TODAY IS THE OPENING DAY!

What ho, why the spaz, and why do you smile?
And, why are you building with grief?
Come on now, confers, 'Cause that today's the style,
And the same thing has come over me!
So! You've got a ticket! Don't brag, so have I,
No wonder we both shout hurra!
I'm ready to yell like a regular guy—
TODAY IS THE OPENING DAY!

Everything Is Ready For Opening Games Pennant Campaign

Fair Weather Is Promised—Yankees Are Overwhelming Favorites in American League—Giants Favored in National—Will Have Stronger Opposition

NEW YORK, April 14.—The forces of major league baseball inaugurate their 1924 pennant campaign tomorrow. Fandom east and west is keenly awaiting the opening shout of "play ball," that will mark the close of the long "off season" and send the sixteen American and National league outfits off on a battle for supremacy that will not close until the last week in September.

Fair weather is promised for the inaugural games. The Yankees have been picked for the initial skirmishes. The highly touted rookies products of spring training will be put to the acid test. But for the most part the veterans will be back at their old posts and to them, tomorrow is just another campaign.

The chief fight in both leagues this year is Cleveland—a combined attack by seven clubs in each circuit to dislodge the mighty New York Giants and Yankees, pennant victors in their respective leagues for the past three years who have captured their fourth straight emblem of triumph.

Yankees are Favorites.—The twelve champion Yankees are overwhelming favorites to set disposed history with another American League pennant. Detroit with improved pitching, heavy attack and weakness around second base, Cleveland, hard-hitting outfit with only a fair defense and mound, certain up as the chief rival of the Yankees, who bank upon their brilliant hurling and offensive of swat led by Babe Ruth to bring the path to another triumph. The Athletics and Red Sox, recently improved clubs and the St. Louis Browns, providing solid reasons for old form, promise to be formidable factors, but Washington and the White Sox, both under new managers, have not shown enough to impress the contenders.

The Giants also are generally picked to finish again in front and fulfill an ambition McGrath once before failed to gain after winning three straight pennants. But the National League champions, forced to rebuild their pitching staff after its collapse last fall, and to reconstruct partially their infield and outfield, face a more formidable task than the Yankees.

Reds Have Hurdles.—The Cincinnati Reds, with the best pitching in the league, but lacking the McGraw attack, the St. Louis Browns, with a strong offensive and solid pitching, stand out as contenders-in-chief. However, the Chicago Cubs, in an aggressive outfit that has climbed up and steady in the last three years, and the heavy-hitting St. Louis Cardinals, as trouble-makers, while the Boston Braves, reloaded under Dave Bancroft and boosted by a fine young pitching staff, are the "dark horse" of the race. Brooklyn and Philadelphia do not figure to escape the second division.

Giants Hope To Show The Way In National

JOHNN MCGRAW, NEW YORK GIANTS—Pitching expected, my club is the strongest in the National League. If my youngsters come through for me the Giants should again win a fourth consecutive National pennant.

JACK HENDRICKS, CINCINNATI REDS—It is my intention to run the Reds about the policy outlined by the late Pat Moran. I have a great club and every player will try to win for the memory of Pat.

BILL MCKEEHART, PITTSBURGH PIRATES—I believe that my club has been strengthened enough in several departments of play to enable it to press the New York Giants to the limit to again win.

BILL KILLGIPPER, CHICAGO CUBS—My club should be at least 25 per cent stronger this year as a result of the experience gained by my young stars in the grueling race of last season. We're in the running.

FRANK HUCKEY, ST. LOUIS CARDINALS—This time last year I counted myself out of the 1923 race. I am counting myself in for the 1924 event. My team will have benefited greatly by experience.

WILLIE HOBBS, PHOENIX ROYALS—My club is only going to win the National League pennant. It is simply going to make every effort to considerably better its showing of last season.

DAVE BANCROFT, BOSTON BRAVES—This managing staff is all new to me. Pennant thoughts are farthest from my mind. Keeping out of last place is going to be my greatest ambition for the coming season.

ART FLETCHER, PHILADELPHIA NATIONALS—Winning a pennant is more piffle as far as my club is concerned. It is a long way from the championship stuff, but a much better club than last year.

Art Fletcher Thinks That Sand Has Struck Stride

Has Johnny Sand, the shortstop who came up from the Pacific coast last year, proved to be a hard hitter and much better than he was expected to be? Art Fletcher, manager of the Phillies, seems to think so.

Fletcher told me that Sand started to come the last six weeks in the 1923 season when he cut loose with an amazing batting spirit, and, for the first time during the year, began to hold his own.

"I look for him to pick right up this spring where he left off last fall and if he does he will be the making shortstop in the National League," predicts Fletcher.

As incredible as it may seem the Phillies paid $25,000 for Sand last year—well, they said they paid $25,000 for him—and naturally plenty was expected of him. Sand proved a terrible flop, he only hit .213 and he made more errors than any shortstop in either league.

At one stage Sand's name became so notorious that Fletcher had to take him out of the lineup and use Parkins, the utility man.

"I think this year Sand will be a star," says Fletcher, who explains Fletcher.

"The youngster got off to a bad start and the fans began making fun of him. He was a real disappointment."

Sand's hitting and hitting were of high caliber in the spring scrums against major league opposition.

No opening of a baseball season would be complete without the presentation of Judge Landis, commissioner of baseball, in a characteristic pose. The judge, being a camera hound, his contract calling for him to pose at least 1000 times during the baseball season, gladly does the stuff for the photographers. In the above picture the judge is depicting on, though with much gusto. It is said the judge will enter the movies on the completion of his seven-year baseball sentence. Wave For Schools Refused

Council Fills Petition of School Board For Apparatus

HIGH PRESSURE IS CALLED DANGEROUS

Aldermen Say That Action Would Create Precedent For Future Protests

A request brought by Dr. W. H. Alexander and George Latham, on behalf of the Public School Board that the city bear the cost of a valve for reducing water pressure in the Donald Ross School, was voted down by Council at a regular meeting held last night. The cost of the valve was said to be about eighty dollars.

According to the school representatives, the pressure of water on the flats was dangerous and liable to blow the fittings loose and to injure delicate valves in automatic flushers, and they had been obliged to install the reducing valve.

Alderman A. G. R. Bury wanted to know if he installed delicate valves on the flats, whether he would be liable to have a reducing valve put in on the flats. "No," said Dr. Alexander, "for you are not a public body."

Alderman J. T. J. Coffman and Alderman William McKeown supported the measure on the ground that it was a precedent, and that it would place council in the position of having to provide either a pump or reducing valve in any building where there was a different pressure to that supplied in the city main, which was opposed.

The measure was in slightly greater than that on the high pressure, and it was said that other buildings near the school were in a similar position. On being put to vote the matter was carried.

James McCaffrey appearing on behalf of the police association asked that the costs incurred by Constables George Derry who was arrested on a charge of hurting a boy while patrolling the streets, might be borne by the city.

James McCaffrey, appearing on behalf of the police association asked that the costs incurred by Constables George Derry who was arrested on a charge of hurting a boy while patrolling the streets, might be borne by the city.

The text of the petition was declared not to appear by Mayor Hatcherford, who said that the police association, in addition to which the opinion of the police association was expressed, spoke against a public meeting, and that the police association, through a public meeting, declared that of anti-mugging and a few days later, the police association, "Why not the police association?"

Wright's body was found blown through the door of the store room where he worked.

JUDGE QUASHES CONVICTION

Appeal of Annie Kucukal Against Three-Month Sentence Successful

PRECEDENT QUOTED Court Finds Woman Was Not Guilty of Vagrancy

Judge Crawford yesterday afternoon, on appeal of Annie Kucukal, quashed the conviction against the woman for vagrancy, three months sentence from Magistrate J. M. Knight against her. The case for the crown after the evidence had been reviewed and several witnesses called, was given the decision.

The young woman in this case had been sentenced to three months in the workhouse for vagrancy. The judge, in his decision, said that the woman was not guilty of vagrancy, and that the sentence was quashed.

The judge, in his decision, said that the woman was not guilty of vagrancy, and that the sentence was quashed. He quoted a precedent in which a woman was found not guilty of vagrancy because she was not a public nuisance.
